A New Wonderful and Useful Invention,

CALLED A

Tidal Power,

Has been discovered at the expense of many years study and experiment which will revolutionize the method of obtaining power for driving machinery of all kinds

Although this power is obtained from the rise and fall of the tides, machinery can be driven at a long distance from the seat of power with this invention by means of a wire rope which is now in common use for similar purposes.

This Machinery is so simple and occupies so little room that it can be erected on any wharf and the expense of the Machinery very trifling compared to other power

It will run for years without any expense and will not cost any person to tend it the power being continuously obtained night and day if desired a common scow being sufficient to drive light machinery This power can easily and effectually be applied to ring Fog Bells, saving the Government thousands of dollars yearly needing no attention after being once set in motion

The principle by which a continuous motion of the Main Shaft is insured in a given direction, can also be applied to Sewing Machines and prevent the possibility of the machine changing to the troublesome backward motion which breaks the thread, by using this process on Sewing Machines both hands of the operator are entirely at liberty to hold the work Children can run them without trouble

In manufacturing Sewing Machines for the future the Balance Wheel can be entirely dispensed with, consequently making a great saving in the manufacturing. This principle can be applied to every machine at a trifling cost.

The application of this principle can also be made to foot Lathes, ... motion of the foot being hardly perceptible and more speed attained than with the crank It also saves the motion of the body when propelling the machine and favors the ankle

The "Close Treadle" for Sewing Machines, constructed to embody the above named principle and capable of being applied to sewing machines of any size kind, or shape, are now being manufactured, and in a few days may be seen, at the clothing store of E G Smart on Exchange Street, in operation attached to a sewing machine from the manufactory of E P Howe successor to the late A B Howe, the originator of the "Improved Howe Sewing Machine"

A license to manufacture and sell ten thousand of the Close Treadle having been granted to A E Kimball, agent for the "Improved Howe Sewing Machine, he will immediately introduce them to this market through his agents, who will apply them to machines of any manufacture at prices so low that every person owning a Sewing Machine will be sure to have one

It is a useful and valuable invention, and is worthy of the investigation of all scientific men

Letters Patent were issued for this invention dated December 27th, 1870, obtained through the agency of Frederic Curtis of this City.

MAINE CENTRAL RAILROAD

Extension Bonds.

(First Mortgage)

It is generally well known the Maine Central Railroad terminates at Danville Junction, and from thence to Portland the Road is a part of the Grand Trunk Railway For the use of this piece of Road (some 28 miles) the Maine Central pays the Grand Trunk a rental which ... some $ ... per annum The Maine Central having leased the Portland & Kennebec R R ... have decided to ... the Grand Trunk road from Danville to Portland by building an Extension of its own road from Danville Junction to CUMBERLAND using the Portland and Kennebec R R from thence to Portland

This Extension has already been surveyed and ... the requisite grading ... the track will be laid ... Spring and be operated for ... the Maine Central Railroad ... Bonds ...

These Bonds are secured by a First and only Mortgage upon the Extension and the entire line of the Maine Central with all its property (which would readily sell for three times the amount of its Bonded debt) is holden for the payment of the Interest and Principal of these Bonds

The security is

UNQUESTIONABLE

... States and the remainder ... at a price which makes them one of the most desirable investments in the market

The Bonds bear Interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and both

Principal and Interest payable

IN GOLD.

Free from Government Tax

Coupons Payable in Boston, April 1st and October 1st in each Year

When it is considered that by building this Extension the Road can have a complete line of its own through to Portland at an outlay of some $30 000 (gold) per year for interest instead of paying some $ ... per year rental to another corporation the commendable economy of the undertaking will be apparent

The local business alone on the Extension will be profitable besides the advantage to the Road of thus being connected by the same gauge with all the great Railroads of the Country

Bonds issued in denominations of $500 and $1000 each.

The highest market price will be allowed for Government, State, and City Bonds, Bonds of other Railroads and Corporations and all marketable securities in exchange for above

OUR ENGLISH CLAIMS

The Fish-Thornton Correspondence

The following correspondence was laid before the Senate on Thursday with a short message from the President

Sir —In compliance with the instructions received from Earl Granville, I have the honor to state that her Majesty's government deem it of importance to the good relations which they are ever anxious to subsist and be strengthened between the United States and Great Britain that a friendly and complete understanding should be come to between the two governments as to the extent of rights which belong to the citizens of the United States and Her Majesty's subjects respectively with reference to the fisheries on the coasts of Her Majesty's possessions in North America, and as any other questions between them which affect the relations of the United States towards these possessions and as the consideration of these matters would however involve investigations of a somewhat complicated nature, and it is very desirable that they should be thoroughly examined I am directed by Lord Granville to propose to the government of the United States the appointment of a joint high commission, which shall be composed of members to be named by each government It shall hold its sessions at Washington and shall treat of and discuss the mode of settling the different questions which have risen out of the fisheries as well as those which affect the relations of the United States towards Her Majesty's possessions in North America. I am confident that this proposal will be met by your government in the same cordial spirit of friendship which has induced Her Majesty's government to tender it and I cannot doubt in that case the result will not fail to contribute to the maintenance of the good relations between the two countries, which I am convinced the government of Her Majesty equally have at heart

I have the honor to be with the highest consideration sir

Your most obedient humble servant

[Signed] EDWARD THORNTON

The Honorable Hamilton Fish &c

MR FISH PROPOSES THAT THE COMMISSION SIT ON THE ALABAMA CLAIMS ALSO

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
Washington Jan 30 1871

Sir —I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of January 26 in which you inform me in compliance with the instructions from Earl Granville that Her Majesty's government deems it of importance to the good relations which they are ever anxious should subsist and be strengthened between the United States and Great Britain that a friendly and complete understanding should be come to between the two governments as to the extent of rights which belong to the citizens of the United States and Her Majesty's subjects respectively with reference to the fisheries on the coasts of Her Majesty's possessions in North America, and as to any questions between them which affect the relations of the United States towards those possessions and further that as the consideration of these questions would involve investigations of a somewhat complicated nature and as it is very desirable that they should be thoroughly examined you are directed to propose to the government of the United States the appointment of a joint high commission, which should be composed of members to be named by each government, shall hold its sessions at Washington and shall treat of and discuss the mode of settling the differences which have arisen out of the fisheries as well as those which affect the relations of the United States toward Her Majesty's possessions in North America. I have laid your note before the President who instructs me to say that he shares with Her Majesty's government the appreciation of the importance of a friendly and complete understanding between the two governments with reference to the subject specially suggested for the consideration of the proposed joint high commission, and he fully recognizes the friendly spirit which has prompted the proposal The President is however of the opinion that without an adjustment of the class of questions not alluded to in your note, the proposed high commission would fail to establish permanent relations and a sincere substantial and lasting friendship between the two governments which in common with Her Majesty's government, he is desirous should prevail He thinks that the removal of the differences which arose during the rebellion in the United States and which have existed since then growing out of acts committed by several vessels which have given rise to the claims generally known as the Alabama claims, will also be essential to the restoration of cordial and amicable relations between the two governments He desired me to say that should Her Majesty's government accept this view of this matter and assent that this subject also may be treated of by the proposed high commission, and may thus be put in the way of a final and amicable settlement, this government will with much pleasure appoint a high commission on the part of the United States to meet those who may be appointed on behalf of Her Majesty's government, and will spare no efforts to secure at the earliest practicable moment just and amicable arrangements of all questions which now unfortunately stand in the way of an entire and abiding friendship between the two nations

I have the honor to be with the highest consideration, sir, your very obedient servant,

EARL GRANVILLE WILLINGLY CONSENTS

Washington, Feb 1, 1871

Sir —I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 30th ultimo, and to offer you my sincere and cordial thanks for the friendly and conciliating spirit which pervades it. With reference to that part of it in which you state that the President thinks that the removal of the differences, which arose during the rebellion in the United States, which have existed since then, growing out of acts committed by several vessels which have given rise to the claims generally known as the Alabama claims, will also be essential to a restoration of cordial and amicable relations between the two governments," I have the honor to inform you that I have submitted to Earl Granville the opinion thus expressed by the President of the United States, the friendliness of which I beg you to believe I fully appreciate. I am now authorized by his lordship to state that it would give Her Majesty's government great satisfaction if the claims, commonly known by the name of the Alabama claims were submitted to the consideration of the same high commission by which Her Majesty's government have proposed that the questions relating to the British possessions in North America should be discussed, provided all other claims, both of British subjects and citizens of the United States arising out of acts committed during the recent civil war in this country, be similarly referred to the same commission. The expressions made use of in the name of the President in your above mentioned note, with regard to the Alabama claims, convince me that the government of the United States will consider it of importance that these causes of dispute between the two countries should also be disposed of. ... it will give me great pleasure to convey to my government the assurance of the President to the addition which will bring on so wise ... your most obedient ...

Let us propose to the duties of the high commission, and we which cannot fail to make it more certain that its labors will lead to the removal of all differences between the two countries I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, sir, your most obedient humble servant

Sir—I saw your article ... "Bogus capitals ..." Mr of ... Belfast ... Buckmore ... told them ... Axel Hayford Mayor of Belfast ... Monroe Young ... the perjured testimony ... Buckmore and Young ...

There is not one ... in the ... many where Buckmore and Young ... but which ... convict ... Murder ...

The facts of the case are these —That Axel Hayford knowing by ... similar transactions with me for a long series of years ... I knew parties in New York ... United States bonds and greenbacks ... Bangor on Oct 1860 to come to Belfast ... there and stopped at his house ... arranged between us ... Hayford said that there is Monroe Young George W Buckmore and Chamberlain would ... purchase of ... 600 to invest in the ... Belfast City bonds ... bought ... bonds ... I accompanied ... New York ... George Buckmore ... Mr Chamberlain ... cash ... Astor House ... Buckmore ... 5000 in cash ... gether and put up at the Astor House ... Buck nor then paid me $1000 in cash ... checks and drafts and endorsed them ... and paid me $2 500 in currency and ... fast city bonds for which I was to pay ... United States bonds and greenbacks ... fifty cents on the dollar according to memorandum he gave me and which was exhibited to the jury in the Court on the trial never paid back the money I got on the trial and then stole it afterwards. His story of keeping the money in his satchel is too preposterous to be believed by any intelligent man for a moment. No man is so careless of his money as to carry it thus. My version of this case is corroborated by Hayford to Buckmore to get me to assist him in negotiating the bonds. Neither of us were persons that a city or railroad would select to negotiate their bonds for them. I did not fulfill my contract with them for the good reason that I had a long account to file as an offset to this $10,000, which was honestly due to me from them for balance due me for like and similar speculations from which the have made large sums Neither Monroe Young, George W Buckmore or Axel Hayford have got an honest dollar They have made more than half they now possess out of $50 and $100 counterfeit greenbacks. They all have been extensive dealers in all manner of counterfeits for over twenty years This many of their neighbors have been aware of I have repeatedly offered to leave out our whole matter to men—I to choose one and they one if they could not agree to pick a third—and abide by their award but they did not do it. I would rather be in my place than in theirs with the awful crime of perjury resting on my soul God will visit them with hell fire torments in this world if he does not in the world to come

By giving the above an insertion in your widely circulated paper, you will oblige an injured innocent and condemned man

FOREIGN NOTES.

The American Minister left Paris Wednesday for a few days' relaxation and is now in Brussels.

Bismarck is again reported quite ill His state causes great uneasiness.

Preparations are making for a heavy bombardment should possible complications occur The attitude of Paris is apathetic, and a reaction is expected.

Immediately on the receipt of Gambetta's proclamation of the 31st ultimo, Bismarck sent a message to Favre, and received a satisfactory reply, announcing that measures would be taken to arrest Gambetta, if necessary. Favre is in favor at headquarters. He has won the esteem and confidence of the officers there.

The Orleans interest is believed to be strong throughout France. The revictualling is proceeding well, but the organization is wretched. The poorer classes are suffering badly, and there is terrible mortality among the children. Many respectable people are making efforts to leave, dreading a renewal of the civil war, which will bring on worse horrors than ever.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

We have received the January and February numbers of CHATTERBOX, a popular English juvenile monthly, each number containing 32 printed pages profusely illustrated with wood cuts designed to please the little folks Issued by POTT & AMERY, Cooper Union New York, at $1 50 per annum

THE WORLD ALMANAC for 1871, contains more than the usual amount of valuable statistics, astronomical data, &c., has been received. Published at the office of "The World" 35 Park Row, N Y.

Mr Sumner says there is no ground for the statement, editorially made by a New York paper, that he stands in the way of a settlement with England, urging that no settlement can be complete which does not include the question of the premature recognition of belligerent rights.

MONDAY FEB 13 1871

"NOT TRANSFERABLE"

When every citizen shall recognize and discharge the imperative obligation to vote intelligently and consistently on every question affecting the public welfare we shall have accomplished a reform, not only of the civil service but one of our political system At present the neglect of this important duty by large portion of every community, and the misuse of electoral privileges by another portion are directly responsible for all the political evils which are now complained of It is unfortunate that the class of men who habitually ignore the responsibilities of citizenship are generally a loss to the higher objects of political effort, being composed large of those, who once fairly aroused to the importance of action, would cast their influence upon the side of right rather than wrong Upon ordinary occasions however, they are too indifferent to recognize the principles which may be as positively involved in a municipal election as in a Presidential contest and either think it not worth their while to vote at all or throw their ballots in accordance with impulse or caprice, regardless of the serious meaning of the act

Men who would indignantly resent any imputation of unfaithfulness in the discharge of a private trust will constantly abuse the confidence reposed in them by the people, permitting their performance of a public duty to be influenced by motives which they would blush to own, and ignoring every dictate of the zeal and discretion characterizing their business life How many of those who are persuaded by the importance of personal friendship to cast their votes for a candidate representing principles directly opposed to their own convictions, ever consider that they are committing a moral impropriety similar in kind if not in degree to that of the man who parts with his vote for some substantial consideration? Doubtless very few, for thousands of men, thought [illegible] the performance of other duties are disposed of their political birthrights in this way year after year and still hug to their breasts the fond delusion that they are discharging all the duties of good citizens and are perfectly free from all responsibility for the mismanagement of politicians

As the rights of life and liberty are inalienable so the right of the ballot is sacred, and the privileges and powers of citizenship untransferable No man can make his neighbor responsible for his own exercise of political prerogative The vote which a man casts is his signature to the bond, endorsing the principles represented by the ticket and even though induced to support a candidate on other grounds than those of political principle he cannot count on the forbearance of the party he has helped to elect, when questions of principle arise as the latter is bound to a higher obligation to his party and will hold the accountability on the platform he accepted Men frequently bestow their votes upon personal friends or from similar considerations in elections where no great principle seems directly at stake and subsequently find to their chagrin that the influence of a ballot cannot be measured by the limits of a particular election In the State of New York some of this class of Republicans have recently received a lesson upon this point which they will probably remember and from which an instructive example may be drawn for other localities

During the last State election, considerable apathy was manifested among Republicans, and thousands failed to go to the polls. There was so little interest in the merits of the contest that out of pure amiability, they responded to the earnest appeals to vote for a neighbor and friend whom they personally esteemed and trusted regardless of political differences and thus aided the election of political opponents In no less than twelve strongly Republican Assembly districts, Democrats were elected by the votes of these solid natural neighbors and acquaintances who took no thought beyond their individual votes As one of the results, when Mr Twombly, the honestly elected Representative of the [illegible] district of New York City, who had been [illegible] counted out by the Tammany managers, came before the Assembly to demand the seat which was his right those twelve gentlemen elected by the liberality of personal friends unanimously voted with their party to keep Mr Twombly out and retain the man who had been thrust into his place

Doubtless any one of these gentlemen would respond to the appeal of their personal friends in matters outside of the party but, although they requested votes regardless of politics when the issue comes friendship must go over at the dictate of party There is no question upon which a man is called to vote that does not directly or remotely involve the political principles of the two parties that are arrayed against each other throughout the country and no one can consistently vote for a candidate unless he is willing that his vote should carry its endorsement and help to the doctrines or creeds which the candidate is bound to carry out when occasion requires A person is not bound to vote for an unsatisfactory nominee of his own party, unless he is convinced that the defeat of his opponent will result in sufficient ultimate or general benefit to counterbalance his defects, but in any case a vote is not a thing to be bandied about as a matter of good fellowship and whether cast for one man or another should be regarded as a practical surrender of opposition to the principles avowed by him

We hope to see the day when every man will prize the right of citizenship, when the duties at the caucus and the duties at the polls will be recognized universally and discharged with a sense of their importance to the well being of all when the privileges we enjoy in this country will be looked upon as blessings not to be treated with contempt, and when a man's vote, like his faith, his allegiance and his honor, will be esteemed above all price, and held as a prerogative bestowed directly upon himself and positively not transferable

THE MILLER DIVORCE CASE. The suit of Mrs N J Miller of Portland, against her husband for divorce which has been in progress before Judge Walton in Portland for the past fortnight, was decided on Saturday, by a verdict granting Mrs Miller a divorce The case has attracted considerable attention on account of the social position of the parties and the connection of many prominent persons with the case as witnesses, &c The wife charged the husband with drunkenness and abuse and the defence pleaded a general denial and a counter-charge of the adultery of the wife with Judge George F Shepley of the U S Circuit Court. The charges against the husband were established, but the respondent failed to prove the criminal accusations against the wife. The question of alimony is yet to be decided by the Judge. The Court room has been thronged with spectators of both sexes throughout the trial, and the city papers have devoted large space to reports of the evidence, which has been of the character usually transpiring on such occasions, and consequently not such as we should desire to aid in circulating

The Kansas Senate on Friday passed a bill giving any person the right to sue for damages any one who sold him liquor and also to sue the owner of the building in which the liquor is sold.

THE JOINT HIGH COMMISSION.

The Joint High Commission for the adjustment of the questions at issue between this country and Great Britain and its Possessions, is composed as follows

Earl de Grey and Ripon, Prof Montagu Bernard, Sir Edward Thornton, Sir John A. MacDonald, Sir John A. Rose, Lord Tenterden, Secretary.

Hon. Hamilton Fish, Justice Samuel Nelson, Gen Robert C Schenck, Hon E R Hoar Hon Geo H Williams

Earl de Grey and Ripon, the senior member of the British delegation, is a liberal statesman of considerable talent, occupying a position in Mr Gladstone's Cabinet as Lord President of the Council, which ranks third in the administration, and has been on previous occasions filled by such men as the Earl of Granville, now Secretary of State of Foreign Affairs

Sir John A. MacDonald of Canada is pronounced the ablest man on that side of the commission, as he is thoroughly acquainted with the fishery question, and has carefully studied the Alabama claims cases

Montagu Bernard is professor of international law at the University of Oxford, and is the author of a history of the relation between his own country and the United States during the rebellion Sir Edward Thornton is the capable and accomplished English minister at Washington, and takes place on the commission by right as well as by courtesy

Sir John Rose is an eminent Canadian politician, who has occupied prominent positions under the Provincial government and is thoroughly familiar with the details of the fishery question

Lord Tenterden, who will be Secretary of the High Commission on the part of Great Britain is a trained diplomat The present Lord Tenterden, originally Mr Abbott, was born in 1834, educated at Eton and Oxford, and appointed a clerk in the Foreign Office in 1854 He was the author of an unsigned paper left by Sir Edward Thornton at the Department of State which reviewed the celebrated letter of Sept 25th, in which Mr Fish so ably laid down the position of the United States on the Alabama claims, and he is regarded as one of the first writers on that question in England

Secretary Fish Judge Hoar and Mr Schenck are probably better acquainted with the questions to be discussed than any other men in the country To them and their two associates, whose opinions on international law will guide the American Commissioners in their discussions, the country can confidently trust the settlement of these long vexatious and threatening issues

The questions to be discussed will probably be considered in the following order

First—The Alabama claims and all matters connected with the conduct of England during our civil war

Second—The fisheries question, which embraces our claims for illegal seizures and imprisonment of our citizens since the abrogation by Canada of the license system last year

Third—The claim of Canada for alleged damages from Fenian raids

Fourth—The navigation of the St Lawrence and the rights of the United States to the free ingress and egress of the Lakes

Fifth—The San Juan question, which has remained unsettled for several years, the American government claiming the island and harbor of San Juan as belonging to the United States under the treaty, while Great Britain maintains that it is included in British Columbia

THE "TENNESSEE." The apprehension that the Tennessee is lost is gaining ground in New York The general opinion is that a fleet of vessels should immediately be dispatched from the ports along the lower seaboards in search of the missing vessel The prominent Naval constructor, Hanscomb, on Friday unhesitatingly pronounced the Tennessee an unseaworthy vessel He says she is too long for her breadth and too narrow to take sufficient coal for a long voyage Other Naval officers deny that the steamer is unseaworthy and say that there is not the least ground for anxiety about the vessel, for the following reasons No intelligence, either from Samana or San Domingo City of a sufficiently late date to have announced her arrival, has been received anywhere Regular communication by the Tybee is but once a month and she is not due on her return trip until the 2d of the present month

Capt. Drummond, of the bark M E Anderson arrived at Philadelphia, Saturday from Prussia, reports that on January 19th, in lat. 36°, lon 72° 30 W, during a strong gale with heavy sea running, passed a large bark rigged man of war steamer standing southward under close-reefed topsails and steaming slowly He is sure that the steamer was the Tennessee She was then two days out

The Tennessee was built for the purpose of chasing and capturing blockade runners and was originally called the Madawaska She made a trial trip in January, 1867 and meeting with rough weather in the Gulf Stream was badly blown about, and showed a disposition to run beneath seas rather than ride over them Since then she has been reconstructed and a spar deck built on her to keep the water out, while her machinery has been changed

LETTER FROM AUGUSTA

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

AUGUSTA, Me, Feb 11

At the meeting of the Committee on Agriculture, Thursday, Mr W Percival of Waterville, one of the Trustees of the Maine State Agricultural Society presented the claims of the Society for an appropriation

He said that formerly the Society received $1,000 a year, but during the war no exhibitions were held In 1868 the exhibition was a success In 1869 a small amount of money was put in the Treasury—some $2,000 The exhibition of 1870 was held at Augusta The total receipts, including the city appropriation, were $14,130 19 The Society would have just about paid expenses but for the accident on the grounds The whole amount of premiums awarded were $3,150 Only fifty per cent have been paid, and the Treasury is exhausted The damages were paid and the premium holders only received one-half of their dues

The Society asks for $2,000 from the State Having paid $1,300 for damages, unless the Society is enabled by an appropriation to pay the balance of the premiums it is doubtful if it will be advisable to hold an exhibition another autumn, for the people will refuse to patronize it.

LATER—The Committee have voted to report a resolve in favor of the Maine State Agricultural Society appropriating $2,000.—Also a resolve in favor of State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts appropriating $20,000 to that institution

The attendance of members in both branches to-day has been slim, but the usual amount of routine business has been transacted An early "rising" is confidently predicted

The members of both branches have a special meeting next Tuesday evening to talk over apportionment matters. There is some growling from those counties where a reduction has been made in the representatives.

The fight upon the repeal of the school laws is yet to come off. In the Senate the minority report of the Committee on Education was presented to-day. It favors a repeal In the House the Clerk's desk is crowded with reports, all of which have been tabled on motion of Mr. Carleton of Whitefield, who is the leader in the crusade against the school laws. He has gained the soubriquet of the "great tablist."

The city is becoming a little more lively.—Balls and various other evening entertainments are getting to be common.

To-day is very fine and the sleighing good.

THE WRECK AT NEW HAMBURGH. Geo Polk a sub-marine diver of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has made two descents at the place of the New Hamburgh disaster, to place grapplings about the locomotive. The engine lies on its side and the cab is entirely gone. The diver observed that the engine was reversed. On the fireman's side of the engine the diver found a bundle of some kind, which is supposed to be the body of the stranger who was riding with the engineer The engine was to be raised Saturday afternoon

Unanswerable Arguments,

Established facts are silent arguments which neither pen nor tongue can shake, and it is upon established facts that the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a health-preserving elixir, and a wholesome and powerful remedy, is based When witnesses come forward in crowds, year after year, and reiterate the same statements in relation to the beneficial effects of a medicine upon themselves, disbelief in its efficacy is literally impossible. The credentials of this unequalled tonic and alterative, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, include individuals of every class, and residents of every clime, and refer to the most prevalent among the complaints which afflict and harass the human family Either a multitude of people, strangers to each other, have annually been seized with an insane and motiveless desire to deceive the public, or Hostetter's Bitters, for no less than a fifth of a century, have been affording such relief to sufferers from indigestion, fever and ague, biliousness, general debility, and nervous disorders as no other preparation has ever imparted. To-day, while the eyes of the reader are upon these lines, tens of thousands of persons of both sexes are relying upon the Bitters as a sure defence against the ailments which the present season engenders, and their confidence is not misplaced. The local potions which interested dealers sometimes endeavor to foist upon the sick in its stead, are everywhere meeting the fate that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

DR SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER

Having, for the last thirty five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose, in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes Palatka is a point I can recommend A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville. It is two miles from river or lake and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times but that is a good sign as it indicates a return of appetite and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh and then the lungs must heal

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove and many other places in various parts of Florida can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is go well down into the State out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver a disordered stomach deranged bowels sore throat or cough, but for those whose lungs are diseased a more southern point is earnestly recommended

For fifteen years prior to 1869 I was professionally in New York Boston Baltimore and Philadelphia every week where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week A practice so extensive embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully and hence my caution in regard to taking cold A person may take vast quantities of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold

In Florida nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes It is a well-established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption especially those of the southern part On the other hand in New England one-third at least of the population die of this terrible disease In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh colds as they are about scarlet fever small pox &c but they are not They take what they term a little cold which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope of cure

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected, even slightly is to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines, because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action I know, that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required This accomplished nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold cough or night sweats and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long

My plan is to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary My object is to give tone to the stomach—to get up a good appetite It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry I have hopes of such With a relish for food and a gratification of that relish comes good blood and with it more flesh which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs,—then the cough loosens and abates the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy and the patient gets well provided he avoids taking cold

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked is there no hope for such? Certainly there is My advice to such is, and ever has been to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time and the proper kind of treatment is pursued The fact stands undisputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption Go where you will you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit, and diarrhoea ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes, and they will relieve you in two hours If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night, or if you may then drink water, and eat watermelons, pears apples, plums, peaches, or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless They can do you only good.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A M, to 3 P. M.—Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not But I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold, yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.

NAPOLEON'S PROCLAMATION.

London, Feb. 12. The Emperor Napoleon issues the following proclamation to the electors of France:—

Wilhelmshohe, Feb. 8th, 1871. Betrayed by fortune, and having kept since my captivity a profound silence, which is misfortune's mourning as long as the armies confronted each other, I abstained from any steps or words capable of causing party dissensions, but I can no longer remain silent before my country's disasters, without appearing insensible of her sufferings When I was made prisoner I could not treat for peace because my resolutions would appear to have been dictated by personal considerations. I left the Regent to decide whether it was for the interest of the nation to continue the struggle. Notwithstanding the unparallelled reverses of France she was unsubdued her strong holds unreduced, few departments invaded and Paris in a state of defence The extent of her misfortunes might possibly have been limited, but while attention was directed to her enemies an insurrection arose at Paris the seats of representatives were violated and the safety of the Empress threatened and the Empire which had been three times acclaimed by the people, over thrown and abandoned Stilling my present sentiment I exclaimed what matters my dynasty if the country is saved? Instead of protesting against the violation of my right, I hoped for the success of the defence and admired the patriotic devotions of the children of France Now when the struggle is suspended and [illegible] reasonable chance of victory has disappeared, is time [illegible] call to account the usurpers for the bloodshed, ruin and squandered resources It is impossible to abandon the destinies of France to an unauthorized government to which was left no authority emanating from universal suffrage Order, confidence and solid peace are only recoverable when the people are consulted respecting the government most capable of repairing the disasters of the country It is essential that France should [illegible] united in her wishes For myself bruised by injustice and bitter deceptions I do not know or claim my repeatedly confirmed rights There is no room for personal ambition but till the people are regularly assembled and express their will it is my duty to say that all acts are illegitimate There is only one government in which resides national sovereignty able to heal her wounds to bring hope to the fire side to re-open the profaned church and to restore industry concord and peace

Special to N Y Herald—

Versailles [illegible] The 58th and 59th regiments left here this morning for the south The Emperor reviewed them prior to their departure The Germans have drawn closer to Paris Chanzy entered Paris on Tuesday A council of war is to be held by the chief Generals of France, the prevailing wish in the capitol is for submission to the fate of war and Paris is willing to make any sacrifice in preference to resumption of hostilities accounts from the North indicate similar feeling Conditions of peace are likely to be relaxed if the Assembly manifest a spirit of resignation, dignity and conciliation The elections were quiet not the slightest interference was made by the Germans there was no emotion or excitement

HAVANA Feb 11

Late advices from Hayti report that another attempt at revolution was made at Port au Prince on the 2d inst An attack was made upon the arsenal but the rebels were defeated and a number arrested at Jeremie A feeling of disgust prevails among the respectable portion of the inhabitants at the unsettled state of the country They declare that the frequent revolutions since the independence of Hayti, have operated to the detriment of the property classes—those of wealth and intelligence, and they seriously contemplate annexation to the United States and only wait until the cession of San Domingo is effected

THE BATH MILITARY AND NAVAL ORPHAN ASYLUM

AUGUSTA Feb 11th 1871

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

This institution was incorporated in 1866 It is to a great extent a local institution In the original bill for a charter presented to the Legislature although to be largely aided by the State no provision was made giving the State any voice in the election of Trustees An amendment was offered and accepted— that four of the Trustees should be appointed by the Governor and Council, —this was done on the ground that if the State was to aid it, the State should have some direction in the management of the institution For reasons which I do not know those most interested opposed the amendment and after the adjournment of the Legislature, the Governor and Council appointed four Bath gentlemen as State Trustees I think at the present time Hon N A. Farwell is the only trustee residing out of Sagadahoc County This Asylum has received from the State —

1867	By	Board of Guardians	5 00 00
1868		do	500 00
1869		do	1,000 00
		do to Ind Belfast	650
		Resolve of March 12 1869	1 000 00
1870		Resolve of March 13 1870	1 000 00
		Board of Guardians	1 500 00
			$33 65 00

The Resolve of 1870 giving fifteen thousand dollars, provides that the accounts shall be submitted to the Governor and Council for approval No reports or accounts had been so submitted up to the tenth day of January, and if since only upon order of the Legislature asking for the same So that in spite of law the State or its officers knows nothing of the manner in which the last fifteen thousand dollars was expended I am informed on good authority that a substantial iron fence has been built around the asylum by one of the trustees at a cost of about three thousand dollars! Both the Resolves in favor of the Institution provided that a good and sufficient Deed should be made vesting the title to the property of the Institution in the State What would ordinarily be supposed to be an easy matter has been attended with great difficulty several Deeds having been made before one sufficient for the purpose could be obtained and at last accounts that one could not be found! If further aid is to be asked for this Asylum the Legislature should be satisfied that its benefits have been proportioned to the money interested therein by the State I do not oppose the object of the Asylum, but I do insist that the State should know that its appropriations are so expended as to promote the interested of the orphans for whom these appropriations were designed

BUSINESS ITEMS.

The demand for Maine Central R R Extension Bonds continues rapidly to reduce the number remaining for sale, and persons wishing to invest funds cannot find a safer and more advisable method than in the purchase of these securities at their present low price At Ninety (90) and accrued interest in Currency, they return at the present price of Gold, nearly seven and one-half (7½) per cent per annum, while Government Bonds pay about five and one-half (5½) per cent. interest on their present cost

This Road, thoroughly built and equipped, and first class in every respect,—located thro' the most populous part of the State, where the products of manufactures and general business increase every year,—will soon have added to its business a new element of great importance, viz: the freight and passengers to and from the Province of New Brunswick. This through traffic will alone constitute a large business, and will pour over the Maine Central at once on completion of the E. & N. A. Railway. The confidence of the public in the thorough and ample security of these Bonds is well shown by the rapid sales made. Government and other securities received at the latest New York prices, in exchange for these bonds, by [illegible] the General Agent of the M. C. R. R. for the sale of said Bonds, to whom correspondence and remittances should be addressed.
